

GERMANS WILL HURL IMMENSE ARMY AT ALLIES

CAPTURE OF LIEGE HELD UNIMPORTANT, FORTS HOLDING OUT

London, Aug. 10.—Messages received here today in official quarters from the Belgian staff assert that the occupation of the town of Liege by the German troops has not had the slightest influence on the strategic situation. It is declared that so long as the ring of forts around Liege remains intact, as it still is, the German command three of the principle roads by which the German army can advance. This it is pointed out, makes it impossible for the Germans under the circumstances to receive supplies or ammunition.

Every line of railroad is alleged to have been destroyed and the Belgian troops are said to have blown up every bridge, culvert and tunnel.

The Belgian staff declares that it has received information that the Germans expecting to take Liege in a few hours, brought only a small amount of food and ammunition, their plan being to rush Liege and make it a base of operations.

Brussels, Aug. 10.—Communication with Liege is still interrupted. The city itself is held by the Germans, but the forts are intact. Despite this confident claim, rumors are in circulation that some of them have been taken by the enemy. The main body of Belgians withdrew from Liege successfully and fell back upon Namur where British and French reinforcements are waiting.

The German commander was the first to enter Liege. His first act was to seize all officials of the city. He announced that further participation in fighting by Belgians not in the army would be followed by execution.

London, Aug. 10.—A telegram from Chaleroi, Belgium, to the Daily Mail Dispatch on Sunday night says a force of French troops arrived in time to participate in a fine success of General Leman's Belgian division over the German troops investing Liege. The correspondent adds: "The French succeeded in reaching the town of Liege and working behind the Germans, cut their retreat. The Germans are said to have lost 8,000 killed and wounded, while 1,700 were captured. I give the figures under reserve."

London, Aug. 10.—The Belgian legation declared at 10 o'clock this morning in connection with the siege at Liege: "Up to the present everything is all right at Liege. The forts are still holding out."

Simplicity Marked The Funeral Service Of President's Wife

Washington, D. C., Aug. 10.—The funeral of Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, which took place at the residence of the President, was a simple affair. The service was held in the east room of the White House, the body of the President's wife lying in state. The service was held at 10 o'clock, and was attended by a large number of guests. The President himself presided at the service. The body of Mrs. Wilson was laid to rest in the Congressional cemetery at 12 o'clock.

GERMAN ARMIES ARE SUCCESSFUL

Berlin, Aug. 10.—The war office today announced that the German armies had been uniformly successful in the opening operations against France and Russia.

All the preliminary aims of the general's staff have been accomplished, said the statement. "Russian advance posts have been thrown back and the imperial army is ready to advance."

Though General Von Emmich's forces were delayed at Liege, they won a glorious victory, capturing thousands of prisoners and but slight losses.

Decisive Battle To Be Fought In Alsace

Franklin T. Merriam, King Albert of Belgium. The military officials believe that the first decisive battle in which the German and Belgian troops are engaged will be fought in Alsace. The German army is expected to advance into Alsace, and the Belgian army is expected to follow them. The battle is expected to be fought in the region of Alsace, which is a strategic point in the war.

KAISER TO LEAD HIS TROOPS AT FRONT

London, Aug. 10.—Emperor William has taken personal command of his troops and Germany is mobilizing 1,000,000 more men for the invasion of France, according to dispatches. The Rome exchange telegraphed that it was authoritatively stated there that the Kaiser had reached Aix-la-Chapelle to take up his position with the field forces.

The Daily Telegraph received a message from its Brussels correspondent stating that the German army would be immediately increased by 1,000,000 more troops and these will be used in the attack on France. They are already being mobilized. The land-storm or home defense force is being drawn upon for this additional force. Reports from other sources say that there are already 900,000 German troops in operation against France. With one million more men, this force will be the greatest army ever set in movement in the history of European wars.

Another Rome dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company carries a report from Basil, Switzerland, that 30,000 Austrian troops have entered Swiss territory at Constance on their way to reinforce the German troops.

That a conflict between the Japanese and the German warships is imminent was indicated in a dispatch received here from Tokyo. "It is believed that the Japs will adhere to the spirit of the Japanese-Anglo Alliance to the very extreme limit. The whereabouts of the German squadron is not disclosed but is reported to be menacing British shipping."

The entire Japanese fleet has sailed from Yokosuka under sealed orders.

Those Participating In The Great European War Are Numerous

All the royal families are related. It is generally known that the Kaiser of Germany is first cousin of King George of England, his mother having been a daughter of Queen Victoria. The German Emperor is also a first cousin of the Czarina of Russia, her mother, the Princess of Hesse-Darmstadt, having been also a daughter of Queen Victoria, while the Czar and King George are first cousins, their mothers having been sisters, daughters of the late King Christian of Denmark. The Kaiser is also a brother-in-law of the King of Greece, his sister Sophie being queen of that country. And should the King of Italy be drawn into the struggle as the ally of Austria and Germany he would be warring with his father-in-law.

MILITANTS RELEASED

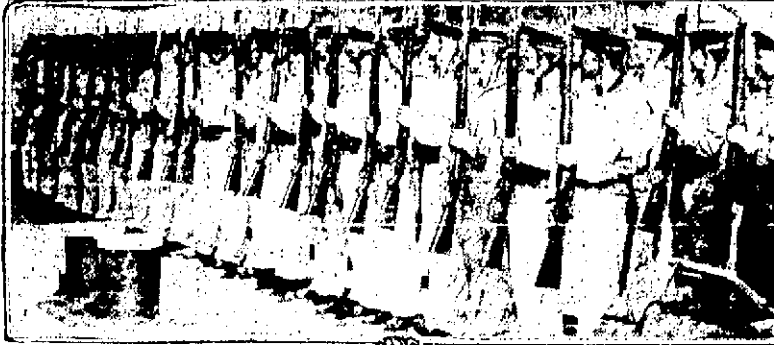

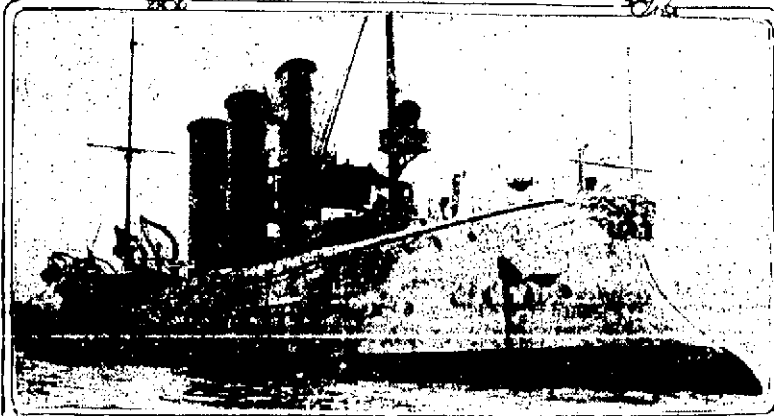

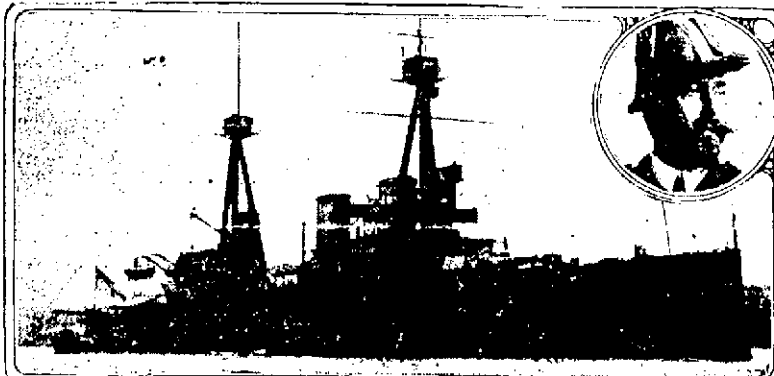

London, Aug. 10.—In the house of commons this afternoon Secretary McKenna announced that King George has announced the release of all suffragettes in prison as result of militant tactics.

PRINCE JOINS GUARDS

London, Aug. 10.—The Prince of Wales has joined his forces. He is reported to be at the headquarters of the Grenadier guards and was assigned to a company as lieutenant. He will have no privileges above that of brother officers.

WORLD'S GREATEST NAVAL POWERS

Prince Louis of Battenberg, who, with Admiral Collingwood, heads England's naval fighters; H. M. S. Infexible, one of the most powerful dreadnaughts of the British navy; the German cruiser Moltke and a sailors drill on the Moltke's forward deck.

With war declared, and England's squadrons of the second most powerful fleet in the world, the world is about to witness the greatest naval battle of the century. The British fleet is now in the North Sea, and the German fleet is in the Baltic. The British fleet is now in the North Sea, and the German fleet is in the Baltic. BATTLE LINES DRAWN CLOSER IN BELGIUM & ALSACE PROVINCE

London, Aug. 10.—Alsace and Belgium have gone to the front is not accepted as the fact that he will take of the world today. In Berlin active command. The Belgian lines are being rapidly drawn closer to the front. The German forces have halted their advance for the greatest battle of modern times. Although the censorship is rigid, it is known that a great force is mobilized to maintain Namur. Meanwhile fighting is in progress along the frontier at Loreine and the French are operating in force against the Germans in southern Alsace with so far uninterrupted success. The announcement that the British had sunk a German submarine has located the British fleet. It must be somewhere near the German naval base. Not a single word is permitted to leak regarding the movement of the British troops. It is known that many are now on the continent. Others are en route. The first big battle will take place near Namur, Belgium, early, France, Great Britain and Russia.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Washington, Aug. 10.—Secretary Bryan today announced that he had received acknowledgement of President Wilson's tender of good offices from Austria-Hungary, France, Germany, Great Britain and Russia.

FRENCH ARMY MEETS SLIGHT OPPOSITION INVADING ALSACE

THE WAR AT A GLANCE

GREAT BRITAIN — Rushing of the army of invasion to fight Germany across the channel to France and Belgium continues although all details are carefully suppressed. Following the sinking of German submarines by a British war fleet, further attacks are looked for.

FRANCE — Invasion of Germany to Alsace-Lorraine frontier continues with fighting believed to be progressing, but all details withheld.

BELGIUM — City of Liege taken by Germans, but forts hold out. Allied French, Belgian and British army is concentrating at Namur. German invasion is delayed by the River Meuse overflowing its banks after a heavy rainfall.

GERMANY — Interruption of communication continues. Kaiser is reported to be taking command at the front. It is officially denied that German army is defeated in Alsace, but troops have retired in pursuance of prearranged plans.

AUSTRIA — Russians are invading Germany and Austria from Prussian frontiers. The Austrian army is massed to oppose the invaders. Austrian troops sent through Switzerland to co-operate with the Germans.

RUSSIA — Mobilization is nearing completion.

Mazatlan Stormed

On Board the United States Ship California, by wireless, via San Diego, Aug. 10.—A general attack on Mazatlan was ordered tonight by General Huerta, commander of the fighting Constitutionalists already in possession of the outer line of the defenses. The besieging forces advanced to the earthworks on the edge of the city. Hand-to-hand fighting occurred in the trenches. A Federal gunboat aided the garrison by shelling the attackers.

WAR TAX IS PROBABLE

Washington, Aug. 10.—Although the United States is not at war legislators admit that levying a war tax is inevitable. The prospects are that European war will prolong itself causing the stopping of imports which will greatly reduce the tariff revenues and make necessary the levying of tax measures.

WHEAT GOES HIGHER

Chicago, Aug. 10.—Wheat reached new high levels for the year on the Chicago board of trade. September wheat went to 97 1/2 and December to 100 1/2.

Paris, Aug. 10.—French military activities are again shut off by a curtain of complete censorship, but the experts at the war office indicate that important events are impending. It is believed that the army sent into Alsace from Belgium and commanded by Goffe, commander-in-chief of French forces, is moving from Jura mountains to the Swiss borders through Alsace to a point east of Colmar. The force that is ordered comes from the center of French headquarters at Lunenburg.

While the fighting to date in Alsace has been sharp, no general engagement is reported. After making a stand at Altkirch the Germans fell back rapidly, and it was not until Colmar was reached that any serious resistance was encountered by the French. Mulhausen was taken without any long continued fighting. At Colmar there was severe fighting in which the French are reported to have overpowered the Germans by bayonet charges. The Germans fell back to West Biesch, near which point a battle is said to be in progress.

That the Germans expected the French army to invade Loreine is indicated by announcements that engineers are endeavoring to dam the Moselle river and the German attempt is intended to prevent the French making a concerted assault on Metz.

German troops are moving on France through Luxembourg. It is reported there that the German army which is operating through Luxembourg will be heavily reinforced in view of the check at Liege. It is recalled that the original German plans call for the activity of the entire German army, a total of one million men.

20 VOLUNTEER ARMY OF ENGLAND

London, Aug. 10.—In the house of commons this afternoon President Asquith announced that Lord Kitchener has directed the raising of the second volunteer army of 100,000 men. This announcement is in effect that the entire British army is under orders on the continent.

It's a lot of watchful waiting we're doing hereabouts this season. First it was Mexico and then the European war and now for a spell of a couple of days it will be the result of primaries that will keep up on the lookout. I'm specially interested in them primaries cause every candidate in the bunch has qualified to be that he's got to win hands down and I'm anxious to see how they're all gonna manage it. Here's the weather: Ohio—Unsettled and cooler to night and Tuesday. Probably local thunder showers. Kentucky—Cloudy tonight. Tuesday fair and cooler.

THE FIGHTING BELGIANS.

Those Belgians have proven the most gallant fighters of modern or any other times. They have not been considered as arbiters of war. They have been at peace for four score years as an independent nation. Their country was overrun during the last Napoleonic war and the final battle was fought at Waterloo. They have remembered this fact doubtless and have made preparation for just such emergencies. Germany viewing that an entry to French territory by the Belgium route would be far safer than by the way of the French fortifications on the frontier and that there would be only feeble resistance upon the part of the little kingdom, chose this route. But what does the great kingdom of Germany find? A nest of hornets armed with the most modern equipment that the world can afford. Forts that are impregnable, occupied by gunners who are accurate and deadly in their aim, mowing down great rows of human beings that shatter not only the Germans, but the world as well. The great war emperor, no doubt, has been stunned with surprise that such formidable opposition lay dormant in his very doorway, only to spring at his throat at the very opening of his campaign and placed a stumbling block in his way that gives time for all his enemies to gather and add strength to those who are now hurrying his warriors to an open grave. The Belgians have again proven that a peaceful people are the most warlike and determinedly vicious when they are aroused, especially when called upon to defend their country and their homes.

THE COME-BACK PROPOSITION.

Tomorrow will settle it whether Mr. Paraker can come back. This come-back business is a pretty difficult matter to properly adjust to one's personal satisfaction. Few have been able to move the bumpers work just right and get a proper connection of the air-hose and the heat pipes. The train seems to jog along. There is much disposition to encourage a fast run just to see if the old machine will work as smoothly as it did in the days of yore, but it seldom does. A fellow sometimes thinks he is flying, but his sight and hearing are defective for it is nothing but the tit of the atmosphere as the opposition goes by. The general rule may be shifted Tuesday and if it should be the public will have every assurance that the fall campaign will be lit up with all manner of calcium lights and the movies will have such opposition that much worry will prevail.

OUR MOBILIZATION.

The mobilization in this country has set in to protect the interests of this country in every way possible during the European war. This mobilization is not offensive to a single foreign interest, but defensive to every domestic and commercial interest. All Americans are asking each other what the effect of the war will be on this country. The general disposition seems to be to make the most of it in a business way and conserve our strength financially, commercially and agriculturally to the demands of our own people. There is no inclination of any American citizen to become involved in the foreign strife, nor will we. No country on earth would care to involve us and we enjoy the respect of every nation engaged in the terrible war. Our ministers, ambassadors and consuls are today representing the interests of every nation that is party to the strife, which goes to show that they all trust in our integrity and are willing that their people and their interests in the enemy's country should receive the care and protection of men of American blood and citizenship. This is most complimentary to this people. With a peace-loving President at the helm, no one should have the least of fear.

BRING HIM OVER.

Having discovered the other ship that was sunk in the Mediterranean by the French and German fleets over in the waters adjacent to Brazil, we still have every reason to believe that the United States government should add that correspondent to the charity list of tourists and bring him over so that we can see what he looks like. A man who will stretch the truth like he has, and get us peace-loving citizens all worked up over this terrible catastrophe, must be some freak of a liar, the like of which has not been seen by the naked eye of the ordinary mortal.

ABOUT THE TAX QUESTION.

Governor Cox has been the first public man in history to smoke out the hidden wealth of the state and compel taxes to be paid upon it. Surely this is in the interest of every taxpayer. The law says and contemplates that taxes should be equal and that all should bear the burden. Surely no one can complain of his inequality of a tax or measure that would bring this about. The fact is especially benefited by such a measure. The farmer or is victim. The assessor can see all around it and over it and there has been but few instances of record when the farmer has any say with the tax assessor. He pays on about all he has and the disavowal of hidden wealth in various other ways of life increases the aggregate valuation and a lower tax rate is made possible. And the recent special session of the legislature has reduced the tax rate and the result, for which Governor Cox deserves all the credit.

THE FOLKS WHO SUFFER.

This European war is seriously interfering with those patriotic gentlemen who attempt to absorb the front page and other prominent sections of the average newspaper. These advance sheets of political speeches that the telegraph editor so liked to receive and fill up a large vacancy when time goes is needed, are now postponed for the time being and the place set apart for them is now devoted to a fight that is a fight. This will no doubt seriously interfere with a number of interesting propagandas, but certainly the country will be better off in the long run.

THE LUCK OF SERVIA.

The little country of Servia has its luck with it. In the initial strife there was every indication that it would be swept off the face of the earth, but the moments of a few days have caused that country to be abandoned by the invading enemy who is compelled by the exigencies of the situation to turn its forces towards the stranger enemy, leaving the little power with no one to fight unless it sees fit to march across its international border. Good fortune seems to camp on the Servian trail. History tells us of many affrays in which the Servians have been accorded praiseworthy terms for gallantry, fighting for the recognition of their country that came only in 1879, after it had lost in battle more people in the century of strife than populates it today. In the present situation there seems to be every guaranty that its independence will be conserved if it will withhold its entry into the boiling cauldron of European hate and conquest.

HONOR IN POLITICS.

There seems to be so little opposition to Governor Cox in the primary fight that it isn't hardly worth while noticing. The opposition to his re-nomination should be beneath the notice of loyal Democrats. There should be some honor in politics as well as elsewhere. Candidates who enter a primary have heretofore been bound by the rules of the primary, that they are party men and are subject to party rules. There is a certain honor attached to these primary requirements, but the opposition candidate appears on the stump claiming to be a Democrat and asserts that he will not support Mr. Cox if he is nominated, and exhorts his hearers to do likewise. Does such a candidate deserve the support of any Democrat? Would a loyal member of any other party be bound by the acts or the assertions of such a candidate, who would so boldly defy all the rules of party, the support of which he seeks? A candidate who is so loosely bound by the ties of party is not deserving the support of any party man. There is absolutely no excuse for it on the part of the opposing, as he has been honored by the Democratic party and elected to positions of profit and trust, and in days gone by no one has been more demanding than he that the voter should stand faithfully by his party pledges. Now he comes before the people preaching a strange doctrine foreign to what he has recently preached. Which shall the voter believe? If the administration of the Governor had been a failure, if he had not kept his promises to the people, or the Democratic faith, it would be different, but it is known by all men, regardless of party, that such an indictment cannot be drawn against our Governor, but to the contrary he has been true and faithful and is deserving of re-nomination.

STAMP OUT THE MONSTER.

That Austrian Duke and Duchess were just two people, no more and no less. Their manner of death was horrible and deplorable. Their alleged royal blood was no better than the blood of the humblest soldier in that country or any other country of Europe, but on account of this they did not deserve death. Yet how many will now offer up their lives as sacrifices to satiate, if possible, the monarchial spirit of revenge. Thousands will pay the price inflicted by an monarchy that should be stamped out wherever found before it encompasses a nation. It should be a warning to every country, especially this of ours. There should be a change in the attitude of freedom's people toward this creeping and dangerous monster in this country. There should be no free speech to the monster who would use force against the power of the law and the institutions of liberty. This is not an abuse for him or his kind and the Philistine fathers did not so outline it.

SOMEWHAT OF A LIAR.

That correspondent who so thrillingly told of the capture of two German cruisers and the sinking of a third by a French squadron which showed much gallantry, only to have the cruisers to show up safe, sound and unsundered in a nearby port a day or so after, should be marked for deportation just as soon as the blood-hounds can locate him. He is almost as big a liar as that fellow who fought all those big battles in Mexico without the loss of a single gun or a moment of sleep.

Our esteemed friend, the Kaiser, is getting into about the same shape of the country boy when he first moves to town—he finds every son-of-a-gun a liar, no matter which way he turns, and there is little hope for him unless his hide and his legs hold out.

All the great nations claim that the Lord is on their side in this great struggle. It would be a queer Lord that could so easily divide up his blessings to meet the complex European situation, and it would be a queer man who would ask him to.

Having been deported from Mexico for drawing a long bow on the war situation, Correspondent Beatt may now find a fertile field in Europe where no one on top of this terrestrial ball will ever be able to catch him in one of his big misrepresentations, so confused and complex is the whole situation.

The latest dispatches from the seat of war, brings the comforting information that the towns of Linberg and Radwits have not yet been taken by the enemy and there is a general inclination to declare them immune from war for all time.

The effort to get Italy come over and help fight reminds one of the old story of taking a horse to the river to drink.

Just as soon as the neutral declares his neutrality just so soon will we begin to wince up to the entry law and feel that we are perfectly safe in the process.

If these Russians do not fight any better than they did in the war with Japan they will be much help to the other allies only to some extent.

It is just as well that the call to war has been revoked as we did not intend to go anyway. It is almost as painful to read the newspaper accounts of the engagements as being an active participant and so we would like to go again at home.

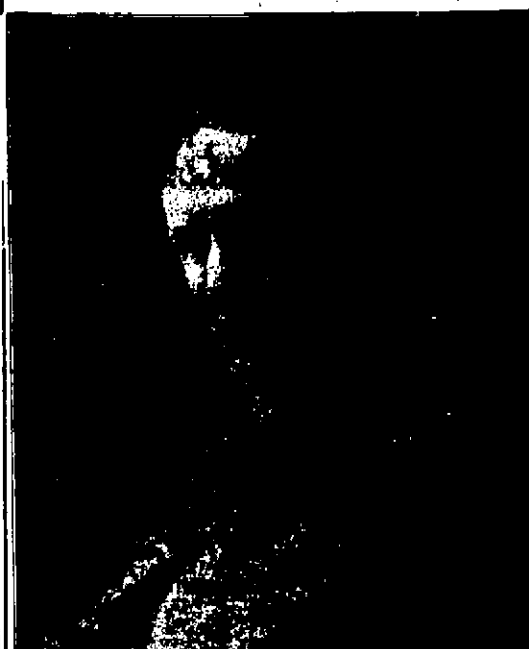

One target party is not the only spot on earth infested with the enemy woman and she affords us much satisfaction.

There is some of the German cables are spilled there may be some more thrown upon the troublesome situation—anyway it will be a little more news.

So far as can be learned from the dispatches, the chances of a peace treaty and the end of the war are not promising, probably, on the whole, the war will continue for some time longer.

It is almost as well that the call to war has been revoked as we did not intend to go anyway. It is almost as painful to read the newspaper accounts of the engagements as being an active participant and so we would like to go again at home.

WILLIAM A. INMAN

A Word to The Democrats of the Sixth Congressional District

There will be the names of four candidates for Congress on the Democratic primary ballot August 11th, and ONE to nominate.
How to mark your ballot to vote for William A. Inman:

X	William A. Inman

William A. Inman was on the "firing line" helping to fight the battles of the party, when others who are continually seeking political preferment were willing to stand aloof and watch the conflict go on. It is easy to be a Democrat when the victory is won and the faithful are being rewarded. Not so when the battle was on against seemingly overwhelming odds. If you feel that William A. Inman merits your support through long and faithful party service don't fail to mark your ballot as indicated above at the primary, August 11th.

The oldest man in the neighborhood should not give up the struggle and retire from the activities of life. The fact that Uncle Joe Cannon, past 75, has announced for congress and has given notice that he'll be darned if he does not clean up the platter with his opponents and do his best to do it in earnest, should be an inspiration to all of us old fellows who have given up life's struggle and are ready to lay down and die.

Just two days from now we will have the pleasure of listening to those gentlemen who have told us all along that they were going to win, but in some unexplainable manner the thing got away from them and was not located in time to be of any use.

In some states they have an anti-tip law, which in manner says that the public has made a mistake in the past by tipping the porter, but should have tipped the policeman and the police judge and saved the fine.

Villa has to do something far beyond the ordinary if he ever gets on front page next to reading matter during these troublesome times.

The speediness that will make a fellow try to butt a coal train off the tracks as did a Virginia motorman, causing the death of five and the injury of a score of others, is as criminal as if he had used a gun on the innocent passengers who were killed while they were returning from a day's outing. There was no excuse for the catastrophe and it may be charged to criminal negligence encouraged by the man for speed.

A very happy and beneficial compromise of the suffrage matter would be to turn the schools over to the women and let the men run the rest of it.

Being filled to the very brim with impishness we would inquire how many of our dear local acquaintances are going to give up their engagements of rides and other family heirlooms in the jewelry line to foster the cause of woman's suffrage. In this state, a special election will be reserved in this pliancy of liberty to give a complete schedule of all such sacrifices.

The Marine Star man has discovered a man with two heads. This will probably be the time that will set on the fence and keep that editor awake the night before the senatorial primary is pulled off.

The dispatches describe Cardinal as just so old man, who would rather die than submit to a fellow to be a worry or waiting.

Probably those South American statesmen got enough of the mediation business as the reason they have not rendered their services in the European difficulty.

Mr. Bryan has followed in the footsteps of his father-in-law who made the rounds in the Congressional circuit, and undoubtedly endorses woman's suffrage. By the way, there would be no than tanquas but for the good women.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Mary Morrison
J. W. Hopkins, of Ironton, received the news of the death of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Mary Morrison, at her home in Rush, Ky., Friday afternoon, at 2:30. Mrs. Hopkins was at the bedside of her mother at the time of her death and had been for some days. The funeral was held Sunday morning from the home, with interment in the cemetery at Clinton, Ky.

Mrs. Mary Morrison, the wife of John Morrison, was born 84 years ago in Scioto county and has spent her whole life not far from her birth place. She moved to Lawrence county and she and her husband will be remembered by the older residents of Sheridan, where they resided.

About twenty-five years ago the couple moved to Rush, Ky., where they have since resided and where they are widely known and universally respected.

Mrs. Morrison was a woman of the old school, of the kind who are seldom found in these days of the strenuous life. A faithful member of the Presbyterian church all of her life, she lived and died in the faith of the Master and reared her eleven children in the fear of God, living as she did to the age of 84, she could see the good that she had started in the world and loved to talk with her husband, who survives her, of their children and grandchildren.

Besides her husband the following children survive her: John D. and Mrs. Friend, of Ashland; George and Frank, of Fayetteville, W. Va.; Mrs. Ruff, Mrs. Beals, Mrs. Payne and George, of New Lexington, O.; Mrs. Wolfe, of Rush, Mrs. Hopkins, of Ironton, and Miss Emma at home.

Mrs. Juliette Musser went to Newport, Ky., yesterday, called there for the death of her youngest sister, Mrs. Lola Mitchell. Deceased was a daughter of the late Dr. D. C. Munro, of Springfield, Ky., and well known in Portsmouth. Her husband, several years deceased, was Tinker Mitchell, of Vanhook, Ky., and for a long time clerk of the courts of Lewis county. Mrs. Mitchell is survived by three grown children.

MRS. FATIMA OLARK.
After suffering for several months from a dropsical affliction Mrs. Fatima Olark, wife of Charles Olark, prominent farmer of Blue Run, passed to her eternal reward, Saturday evening at 6 o'clock. She was a good, Christian woman and had reached her 72nd mile stone. Besides her aged husband she is survived by several children, all grown. The funeral will be conducted from her late residence, Tuesday morning, burial in the Wheelersburg cemetery.

Mrs. Emma T. Dennis
The following item, clipped from a Des Moines, Iowa, paper of July 30, was sent to Mrs. Edgar Draper by her friend, Miss Margaret Colos of Ashland, Ky. Miss Colos suggested that it find a place in The Times as Mrs. Dennis has many warm friends and admirers among our older citizens. Her husband, Mr. L. W. Dennis, died recently in the South, where they were sojourning for health's sake. He was for years a business partner of Captain Colos of Ashland, and the daughters have kept in close touch through all the years.

Mrs. Emma T. Dennis, 75 years old, widow of the late L. W. Dennis, a former wholesale grocer of Des Moines, died yesterday at the home of C. W. Keyes, 941 Fifth street. Mrs. Dennis had made her home at the Keyes residence for several years. She was a sister of Mrs. Keyes. The funeral, which will be private, will be held from the residence at 10 o'clock Friday morning. Interment at Woodland cemetery.

The Successful Man

MORE than nine times out of ten you will find that the successful man began his success by first being a prudent man. He early learned the value of saving and began putting his surplus in bank. There is character and force about the man who has money in bank. He budgets confidence in himself and confidence and credit from the community. Opportunities begin to come his way and having some means he is the better able to profit by them.

The first step towards success is saving. We want to help you in this step and we offer you the security and facilities of our bank. One dollar will open a savings account and we allow interest on all savings deposits and compound the interest.

All Confident On Eve Of Primaries

On the eve of primary day, Tuesday, August 11, the various candidates find themselves resting on their oars. They are satisfied with their chances, and are awaiting the verdict at the polls.

The candidates almost to a man have worked early and late, and each believe himself to be a sure winner under the old political wire. Certainly no group of candidates ever worked as faithfully as the bunch that will vote the primary Tuesday. The candidates have gone into all corners of the city and county and have carried debts for the past ten days, continuing seriously ill at his parent's home.

BIRTHS

A winsome little baby daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schirrmann at their home on Second street Sunday morning. Mr. Schirrmann is now the proud father of a boy and a girl.

Mr. J. Buffington, manager of the Samuel Harshaw Co., is all smiles these days, due to the arrival of a blue-eyed baby girl at the Buffington home, 946 Second street. The proud father declares that the little Miss is the finest baby that ever opened its eyes in the big round world. Incidentally "papa" is setting "papa" up to his many friends, who have countered with hearty congratulations upon the birth of the pretty little baby.

Mr. Mary Hilton of Grandview avenue, was overcome by heat Monday afternoon. A physician revived her.

THE BOARD OF ELECTION was in session Monday looking after transfers of voters, who have been unavoidably detained from the city. Quite a few transfers have been issued.

Much interest in the primary is centered in the congressional race. The various candidates are full of confidence and each expect to be returned the winner.

There are 20 candidates for county commissioner on the Democratic and Republican tickets. Only three are to be elected.

Miss Blanche Noel, daughter of the late J. M. Noel of Buena Vista, and niece of Charles Donahoe, of the Famous Clothing store, is marooned in France on account of the big European war. Miss Noel, who is a teacher at the Denauw University, had been spending her summer vacation abroad.

Overcome By Heat

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Miss Wise.—In answer to the question in last evening's paper as to how the Emperor of Germany and the Czarina of Russia are related, would like to state that the Czarina is the daughter of the late Grand-duchess Von Hessen, who was Princess Alice, daughter of Queen Victoria, and water of King Edward VII. of England. Prince Henry, well known in America, brother of Emperor Wilhelm, married a sister of the Czarina of Russia.

G. L. S.

Miss Dolly.—Will you please tell me if Kaiser William of Germany and Czar Nicholas of Russia, are relatives. If so, in what way?

IGNORANT.

Kaiser William is the first cousin to the wife of the Czar. There is a very distant blood relationship between the two.

Dear Dolly Wise.—Please give me a recipe for making cream puffs.

M. W.

Put two cups of boiling water and one cup of butter over the fire to boil. As soon as it is boiling stir in two cups of flour, stirring until perfectly blended and cooked and the paste leaves the sides of the pan forming a ball. Stand away to cool. When cool, add five eggs unbeaten, one at a time, beating until each egg is well mixed in the dough before adding the next. Beat vigorously for two minutes; let it stand in a warm place for a few minutes, stirring occasionally. Drop in tablespoonfuls on a well greased tin, leaving space between each one. Bake in moderately quick oven thirty minutes. In turning them, lift up the tin. If you move them before they are set they will fall. Cool on brown paper. When cold, make an opening with a sharp knife and fill with a cream filling. Seal one pint of milk in a double boiler. Whip two eggs without separating and one cup of sugar to gether until light, then add to them two tablespoonfuls of corn starch and stir in the scalded milk. Stir constantly until it is cooked and thickened, add one-half teaspoonful of lemon, and cool before filling the puffs.

Dear Miss Wise.—How is it that the news we get out of all the papers states that the Germans are always defeated? It looks as though they should be victorious some time. Which nation has the best and largest navy? Has Germany declared war on Italy? What is the population of Germany?

TIMES SUBSCRIBER.

All cables and communication with Germany have been severed. All news that is sent across the ocean comes from Paris, Brussels and London. Naturally the news is somewhat anti-German. You can not blame the American press for this as they take what is sent in and are not inclined to warp the news. When Germany is heard from you will no doubt hear of German victories. Germans in this country do not consider the fighting at Liege a battle. They class it as a "skirmish." Germany has not declared war on Italy, but is trying to persuade her to join her in the war against England, France, Belgium and Russia. The most accurate figures that I can secure on the population of Germany gives it 64,925,933. In addition the table gives France a population of 59,850,000, her colonies, 54,240,700; British Empire, 45,221,613, including England, Wales, Scotland and Ireland; Russian Empire, 166,50,000; Belgium, 7,432,000; Austria-Hungary, 51,340,000 and Serbia, 4,000,000. Great Britain is conceded the largest and best navy.

Dear Miss Wise.—Please advise me, in your valuable paper, if couples are both obliged to get a license in any state they choose to wed in?

HAPPY BERTHA.

Marriage licenses are required in all states and territories, except Alaska. New Jersey if residents (otherwise required) New Mexico and South Carolina. California requires both man and woman to appear at the proper bureau, submit to the examination under oath as to their fitness for the marital relation. New York state requires both to appear at a regular license bureau and make application for a license.

Dear Miss Wise.—Kept company with a young man five years. Love him better than I do my own life. He says he loves me. Never will be happy till we marry. He tells me he's coming to see me; goes some place else. I lose confidence these ways. What is best to do?

WORRIED GIRL.

There is little you can do, but accept the society of others who are true.

Dear Miss Wise.—Gladly I

need your advice. A boy friend of my town worries me. I desire his friendship. He called on me several times, I invited him; enjoyed being entertained at my home. Is it my place to write him every time he calls? What course ought I to pursue to regain his friendship?

A GIRL'S ANXIETY.

A boy often strolls around to this girl's home or that one's before he is of that age that he can choose one whose friendship he desires. It is unnecessary to write to him regarding his every call. Leave that for him to do.

Dear Miss Wise.—I am a girl of twenty-one, am not keeping company at present. I love a nice young man. He used to go with me, but not for nearly two years. He has gone with my girl friend. I don't think he is going with her any more. We never had words. He is twenty-one. I love none other but him. Had some trouble with another fellow. I quit the former. He seemed to quit lots of me. "He is the only one for me." I will never enjoy life without him. Please advise.

ANXIOUS GIRL.

You may think he is the only one for you and change your mind any day. A girl sees with different eyes a lover who quits, goes with a girl friend. She don't want him back.

Miss Dolly Wise.—What is the "Furlina," and is it a very disagreeable dance?

MARJORIE R. N.

I don't know the dance except that it is of Italian origin, from Venice. I think, as danced by the peasants some say, it is a bit gay, but judging by the illustrations, the steps are graceful and very pretty, without the close embrace. A dance is what you make it.

TODAY'S VERSE

The Summer

I have old-fashioned summer,
I have oppressive heat;
I have to feel the sun's rays
Upon my old head beat;
I die on perspiration,
To swelter is my choice;
For ninety-seven weather
I raise my plaintive voice.

Humidity's a standby
I could not live without.
When street asphalt is burning
I raise a joyful shout.

I have the blinding dust storms,
On thunder storms I date;
I also love mosquitoes,
For prickly heat I vote.

It is the finest weather
That ever yet was made
When mercury's recording
One hundred in the shade.
I love to sit and swelter,
Expecting I will melt.

When there's no shade or shelter
And no breeze to be felt,
I love the good hot weather
When I seem all on fire.
I know what you are thinking,
You're thinking I'm a liar.

A Change of Occupation

Oh, what has become of the old-fashioned farmer
Who used to go out bright and early each morn.
Before he had breakfast, and work in the barnyard
Or plow six or seven large acres of corn?

No longer he drives in an ancient spring wagon
To town with a tattered straw hat and blue jeans.
He uses a touring car now on his travels,
His wife has the choice of three fine limousines.

You see, things have changed since "way back in the nineties."

This years since the old man has followed the plow;

For he and his wife are just rolling in riches.
They take summer boarders at fancy rates now.

The newspaper Le Soir today published the following details of the occupation of Liege:

"The Germans, on seeing spaces between the forts opened before them, entered in small groups during the evening. Among those who entered were General Von Emmich, commander of the Tenth Army, and his men. At the city of Liege, which is in the barracks, the German and Burgomaster of Liege were informed that unless the towns were surrendered the Germans would bombard the town and raze it to the ground."

England Opposes Germany For The First Time In War

The Anglo-German conflict that has just begun is the first war that has ever been fought between England and Germany, or between England and any part of Germany.

Great Britain has often been the ally of Prussia, the backbone of the present German empire, but never her enemy. England lent Prussia valuable aid during the Seven Years' war of 1756-1763, and helped her again during the war of liberation against Napoleon. Prussian and English troops fought side by side in the battle of Waterloo, and marched into Paris together several weeks later. It is true that during this conflict, Saxony, a German state siding with Napoleon, was technically considered at war with England, but no actual clash between the forces of these two countries ever occurred. The last time that Englishmen and Germans fought as allies was during the Boxer insurrection in China 13 years ago.

Until well after the accession of Emperor William II, France, and not Germany, was regarded as England's arch enemy. It was the Kaiser's aggressive naval policy that antagonized John Bull. That wary old gentleman soon became suspicious of the upstart navy which his Teutonic neighbor was constructing, and from that moment on the traditional Anglo-German friendship became a thing of the past.

A Good Man For SHERIFF

The office of County Sheriff is one of great importance, and to make a good sheriff a man must be one of ability, fearless in the discharge of his duty as an officer—a broad-minded man of cool judgment—one who will see his duty and do it, regardless of fear or favor. He should be well acquainted in all parts of his county. TIMES TO GIVE NEWS OF PRIMARY ELECTION AT ITS NEW OFFICE

Tuesday evening, Primary night, The Times will not issue an election extra, but it has made preparations to furnish all the news available to those interested. The Times office will be open until midnight, and as fast as possible returns will be secured from the state, district and county. We have made arrangements to secure a telegraphic service for the evening over our Associated Press based wire and these bulletins will be sent to those gathered at the office. This service will include the latest on the European war. The Times extends a cordial invitation to candidates and all others interested to make this office their headquarters during the evening. You can have your personal returns sent in here, if you so desire. Our various telephones are at your service. You will also have an opportunity to inspect our new office, which is now almost completed.

Relative Military Strength of European Powers

These figures give an idea of the military strength of the seven nations now at war, or which may soon be fighting. The estimates of military strength, however, are to be taken for what they are worth. They show the fighting strength, according to each nation's own estimate, on paper. There isn't any likelihood that Russia will ever have 5,400,000 men in the field, nor that Germany will have as many. Nor can France equip and manage 4,000,000. If these estimates were to be taken at face value then Great Britain might be given credit for many more than are shown. She has the Indian population on which to draw, to say nothing of Australia, Canada and South Africa. Italy is of course, for the time being at least to be counted out. So the Triple Alliance has gone to smash and Germany and Austria are left alone at war with most of the remainder of Europe. The chief reliance of the new Dual Alliance must be the wonderful German organization.

Kronprinzessin Cecilie at Head of Her Regiment

The war fever has permeated the women of Germany as well as the men. Kronprinzessin Cecilie, who is an honorary colonel of a regiment in the German army, is here shown at the head of her regiment marching through the streets of Berlin. The Kronprinzessin is one of the most popular women of Germany. In the several rows the crown prince, her husband, has had with the Kaiser, she has stood with the men she loved. When she and the crown prince rode down Unter den Linden Saturday night after the declaration of war against Russia she was cheered to the echo.

Belgian Mobs Raid Houses Of Germans

Berlin, via London, Aug. 10.—Mobs of German residents in Belgium and destruction of their property by Belgian mobs are described in a dispatch just received here from Goch, correspondent of the official news agency. After martial law was declared throughout Belgium on Saturday and all Germans had been ordered to leave at once, some Belgian mobs gathered in Belgian cities of size and demolished most of the stores and shops owned by Germans, or which dealt in German goods. Houses of Germans were stoned, windows smashed and in some cases the doors were splintered with axes.

AFTER PASSING YEARS

Portsmouth Testimony Remains Unshaken

Time is the best test of truth. Here is a Portsmouth story that has stood the test of time. It is a story with a point which will come straight home to many of us.

Mrs. Henry P. Ehl, 29 East Sixth street, Portsmouth, Ohio, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills certainly are fine and do all anyone could want. They are safe for women to use and give quick results. I was in bad shape on account of kidney trouble. The action of my kidneys was irregular and the kidney secretions were unnatural. My back ached and I had dizzy spells. At night I was restless and morning I felt all tired out. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Fisher & Strick's Drug Store and used some. In a short time they made me strong and well. The endorsement I gave Doan's Kidney Pills when they cured me, still holds good."

Address To Republican Electors

By Warren G. Harding

WARREN G. HARDING OF MARION

TO THE REPUBLICAN ELECTORS OF OHIO:

I am a candidate for the Republican nomination for Senator in the Congress of the United States from the state of Ohio and I will greatly appreciate any support accorded my candidacy at the primaries on August 11.

Under the new political regulations obtaining in Ohio it is necessary for a candidate for this high office to appeal for support directly to his fellow partisans. The lateness of my entry precluded my making a statewide campaign and I am thus forced to appeal to you through the columns of the press.

I am a believer in a government through the medium of political parties, aligned upon fundamental issues.

I believe that party organization and party discipline are necessary to the success of any cause, but I have never submitted to corrupt or arbitrary dictation and have no desire to be a dictator or "boss" myself, nor to yield allegiance to one.

I am a believer in the principle of the Republican party and in the policies which have wrought so wonderfully for the advancement of civilization, for the spread of education, for the equalization of opportunity and the prosperity and welfare of all the people.

I believe in a representative government, responsive to the enlightened will of the people, in the rule of the majority and the protection of the minority.

I believe that capital is composed equally of labor and the means to give it employment and that each is dependent upon the other and that one can not be assailed or oppressed without injury to the other. I would maintain profitable business and ample employment at the higher American wage, ever held in just and righteous relationship.

I believe in business, big and little, which provides employment at the best possible rewards for labor and capital, the best markets for our products and the widest distribution of the luxuries as well as the necessities of existence.

I believe in holding fast to the things which have been proved good, but I am ready to meet and march in progression with changes to meet new conditions or which are approved by reason and justice.

The elector, in making the ticket for this and every campaign, should bear in mind the capacity, character, beliefs and habits of mind of the candidate and his availability for the nomination in the exigencies of the contest. I ask that my candidacy may be so considered. Contesting with me are men of high character and conspicuous service. I am ready to accept loyally your decision among us and should I not be chosen, I will support cordially your choice.

WARREN G. HARDING

FROM SPEECH AT CLEVELAND, MAY, 1 '14

"What this country needs right now is less legislative mulling and more commercial billing. It needs a protective tariff policy, safe from political tampering, which will give employment first to American workmen, at the higher American wage scale, and give our business first to American producers, whose activity is ever essential to American prosperity. We need to cling to the wisdom of experience, rather than chance the promises of experiment, and thought for the upkeep along with the uplift."

"A Slugger" Charged With Serious Offense

Considerable of a commotion was created in the vicinity of Gilbey and Sinton streets Saturday evening over an alleged attempted criminal assault upon Alice, the 7-year-old daughter of Carpenter Roy Williams.

You will be surprised how quickly the trouble disappears, and the health and beauty of your hair improves. Avoid imitations. Resinol is sold by almost every druggist.

Mrs. Mary Williams, mother of the child, charged James Taylor, aged 22, a "slugger" at the Sinton shoe factory, from the home but he made good his escape and is thought to have returned to his home in Denver, Va.

Taylor has been boarding at the Williams home and bore a good reputation. He had invited the child to his room upstairs, it is said, to show her some post cards and pictures. Shortly after the mother had occasion to go upstairs and according to her story reached the room just in time to save her child from attack. Mrs. Williams filed an affidavit against Taylor at the mayor's office Monday morning.

BOAT SINKS; 5 LEFT STRUGGLING IN THE WATER

TWO WOMEN SAVED BY LIFE LINES; GIRL RESCUED BY FATHER

Five lives were almost sacrificed when the little green painted launch belonging to Carl W. Hartman, a city salesman for the Gilbert Grocery Company, sank in the Ohio river near the Kentucky shore, opposite Offnere street, Sunday afternoon about four o'clock.

Mrs. John Snyder, wife of a bartender at the St. John's hotel, and Miss Bertha Walden, a stenographer for the Gilbert Grocery Company, were rescued by the crew of the passing gasoline boat Lucille while the former's little 7-year-old daughter, Mary was saved by the child's father who swam ashore with her. Hartman was also able to swim and reached shore safely.

Women Lassoed and Dragged to Safety

That the two women were not drowned was due to the fact that they were lassoed with life-lines thrown from the deck of the Lucille. They had lost the life preservers they had seized when the boat disappeared from under them and were helplessly floundering about on the water. Mrs. Snyder was screaming frantically for someone to save her baby, while the child was shouting appeals to rescue her mother.

The near-disaster occurred shortly after the pleasure party had left the foot of Chillicothe street for a ride up the river. The motor-boat ran into Bonanza bar, head-on, in shallow water and went around. This thoroughly frightened and unnerved the only child in the party, and it was decided to take her back home. Hartman, who was now attired only in a bathing suit, got out and managed to pull the boat back. It had hardly turned around and gotten under way again when about midway between the dyke and upper ferry landing the engine suddenly died. The women in the stern end felt the water under their feet and within another moment or two the boat went down, throwing the occupants into the stream.

Big Waves Add To Peril
The ferryboat Peerless had just made a turn to head into her landing place and the big waves added to the danger of the struggling persons. The Lucille was coming up the river towing a barge, and bearing the cries of distress, her crew began throwing out lines and life-preservers.

The women were pulled aboard and then taken to shore. Spectators on shore momentarily expected to see the little girl disappear from view and were greatly relieved when an instant later her father reached her side and managed to hold her high above the waves and swim to shore. Mrs. Snyder and daughter were taken to a nearby house and supplied with dry clothing, while the husband and father and Hartman were brought to the Ohio side by Jim Barber, also a Gilbert Grocery employee, in his motorboat. They returned soon after with fresh clothing for Mrs. Snyder and daughter and brought them to the city.

The Snyders and Miss Walden occupy apartments in the Danmar building. Hartman resides at 1529 Ninth street. His clothes went down with the launch, and among other things he lost his gold watch, eight or ten dollars and some valuable papers.

Walter Price and other boat owners hurried across the river in an effort to rescue the party, but they had already been picked up by the gasoline boat. Willie Meek and others dragged the river Sunday evening for the sunken craft, but were unable to locate it.

Hole Torn In False Bottom
It is thought that when Hartman's boat went around a hole was torn in her false bottom.

Mrs. Snyder and daughter were still suffering from the shock over their exciting experience Monday morning. Miss Walden, in talking of the accident, said she was not frightened in the boat, but found herself in danger because she did not know how to adjust the life-preserver. She still had a mark on her neck caused by the nose of the life-line, with which she was pulled aboard the gasoline boat. All of the party were so excited that they did not learn the names of their rescuers.

DR. W. D. TREMPER is the only Home candidate for State Senator. A Republican for 30 years, his campaign is based on his record.

The Right Place!

The friends of THOMAS W. WATKINS, highly respected citizen of Portsmouth, who is seeking the nomination of County Commissioner on the Republican ticket at the Primaries to be held Tuesday, August 11 believe that he in every way measures up to the requirements this important office demands.

All his life he has been a thorough going Republican, working for the success of his party because he believed in the principles. He has never held an elective office. His Republicanism, therefore, has been thoroughly proven. Then he is a constructive mechanic—he knows how to build things, and best of all has had considerable experience in building roads. He is a hard working, honest earning mechanic—one who has made his living by the sweat of his face and you cannot find a man for whom he has worked but will say that "Tom" Watkins always rendered a faithful day's service for an honest day's wage.

Mr. Watkins has lived in Portsmouth for many years. He has also resided near Buena Vista—ask any of his acquaintances concerning his character and they will all say that his word is as good as his bond.

Vote for Thos. W. Watkins for County Commissioner—you will never have done a better day's work, for he will watch out for the tax-payers' interests and will see to it that the laborers for the upbuilding of the roads render an honest day's work. The people's interest will be in safe hands so long as men of the calibre of "Tom" Watkins are in office.

Your support will be highly appreciated.

It is highly important that the office of Prosecuting Attorney be filled by a man that is thoroughly qualified as this county is now so large that a great part of the time of the Prosecutor is taken up by various important advice to the County Commissioners, Township Trustees and Boards of Education and this advice should be given by a lawyer that has been in practice long enough to make the advice of some value.
